CIRCULATING THROUGHOUT THE VAST AGRICULTURAL AREA OF PALM BEACH COUNTY

Judge Tyson Will Win 4-Year Term

James L. Tyson, Jr., judge of the Magistrate court in Western Palm Beach county, will win a full four-year term in the office when he votes for himself in the general election in November. Judge Tyson, who was appointed to the bench by Gov. Bryant when the court was instituted in July 1961, was the only candidate filing for the position. No other Democrat and no Republican filed against him.

Since inception of the magistrate court, with offices and temporary court room in the Glades Office Building, a splendid service has been rendered by the new judge and his many friends are congratulating him on the fact that he will now be elected for a full term. It has been an outstanding judicial service that the new judge has rendered since his appointment and that service has drawn warm commendation from judicial circles in the court house in West Palm Beach.

Within a year Judge Tyson and his court will have a permanent home when the second story of Glades Office Building is constructed. At present his court is meeting temporarily in the auditorium of the building. Plans and specifications are ready and bids will be received April 2 by the county commission for the second story addition, according to County Commissioner Paul Rardin.

Funeral Services Garland R. Chaney

Graveside services for Garland Ray Chaney, 47, were conducted Sunday afternoon at Port Mayaca Cemetery by Rev. T. C. O'Steen, pastor of the Pahokee Methodist Church. Funeral services were held earlier Sunday in Homestead, at the Brannon Funeral Chapel.

Mr. Chaney, formerly of Pahokee, died unexpectedly last week at his home in Homestead of a heart attack. He was a farmer and crop harvester at Homestead and Hendersonville, N. C. Born in Ga. he came to Pahokee as a boy with his family in the "twenties" and spent most of his life here.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Maxine Chaney; one son, Joe Garland; two daughters, Miss Linda Chaney and Mrs. Shirley Lee Lee-Claire; his mother, Mrs. Ruby Chaney; one brother, Elick Chaney, all of Homestead; three sisters, Mrs. Thelma Wood of Tavernier, Mrs. Verna Doyle of Panama City and Mrs. Audrey Bennett of Homestead.

Brannon Funeral Home of Homestead was in charge of arrangements.

Among those from out of town attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Herbert and Mrs. Cassie Chaney of Okeechobee; Mr. and Mrs. Pickens Woodward and daughter, Hazel Ann, Bill Woodward and Mrs. Abbie Woodward, all of Stuart.

Angus Sims has returned to his home after receiving treatment at the Good Samaritan Hospital in West Palm Beach.

Scoggin-Jones Circle Met Thursday Eve

The Hannah Scoggin-Annie Jones Circle of the Canal Point Baptist Church held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Laith Nall Thursday night. Mrs. James Rogers, chairman, presided. Mrs. C. D. Stewart and Mrs. J. S. Atkins presented the last chapters of the Mission Study Book, Glimpses of Glory.

There were seven members present. Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Nall.

Lions Are Told Of Cooperative Buys

Howard Carter was guest speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Pahokee Lions Club, Tuesday. He is Director of the New Department Planning with Associated Grocers of Miami. He spoke of cooperative buying which makes it possible for small merchants to stay in business and compete with the large chain stores. He illustrated his talk with color slides.

President Brooks Henderson presided over the business meeting. Visitors were Harold Aldrich of Miami; and four members of the Seaside Lions Club of Cocoa Beach. Dave Lambert, president; Leo Glasser, first vice-president; Marvin Brubaker, director, and Henry D. Lorey, secretary. Miss Gayle Sears was the guest of student member, Robert Boe.

Lions and their families are urged to watch the television show "Route 66" on March 30th. Most of the action of the show will be filmed in Kerrville, Texas, at the Crippled Children's Camp which is a Lions Club project.

Avocado Growers Have Bird Battle

Avocado growers in the area have had another hurdle to jump recently. Flocks of cedar waxwings have descended on the groves and have been eating the blooms. There is no doubt about it, they do eat the blooms and are not just hunting for insects. Cedar waxwings are very beautiful birds with amusing as well as annoying habits. They go through a ritual while sitting in a row on a limb, of passing a choice tidbit, for instance a cherry, from one bird to the next one. They are brown and about the size of sparrows, with a long crest, broad band of yellow at the tip of the tail and a touch of red on the wings.

Some of these birds have been migrating through this "flyway" for years, but never in this number before. Old timers believe the unusual migration is due to the fires and smoke in the Everglades.

VISIT FLOWER SHOW

Mrs. J. H. Harrington and Mrs. A. H. Scruggs accompanied Gauden Harrington to West Palm Beach Sunday. Mrs. Scruggs and Mrs. Harrington attended the Garden Club flower show that was held in the Armory. Following the show they were carried by Mrs. H. T. Lawson on a tour of three of the gardens.

Cattlemen's Field Day Planned Today

Today (Friday) is Field Day for the Palm Beach Cattlemen's Association and the meeting will be held at the Everglades Experiment Station east of Belle Glade.

Dr. W. T. Forsee, Jr., director of the Station, will discuss beef cattle research at the Station.

Other speakers will include Dr. F. H. Thomas of the Station staff; F. E. LeGrand, Dr. C. E. Haines, J. R. Orsenige, H. L. Chapman Jr., R. L. Shirley, T. J. Cunha.

M. U. Mounts will discuss the history of beef cattle raising in Palm Beach County following the luncheon with Frank Pehill, the moderator.

There will be a production testing program in the afternoon with J. E. Pace and William Stitt in charge. R. W. Kidder will discuss research in the Everglades.

A field trip also is planned at Station showing various pasture and forage experiments.

Final Rites Held For J. E. Cochran

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at the First Baptist Church in Pahokee for John E. Cochran, 85, who passed away on Saturday after an extended illness. Rev. Guthrie Colvard, pastor of the church and Rev. T. C. O'Steen, pastor of the Pahokee Methodist church were in charge of the services. Burial was made at Woodlawn Cemetery in West Palm Beach where the Pahokee Masonic Lodge was in charge.

Survivors include two sons, W. H. Cochran of Belle Glade and J. E. Cochran, Jr., of Homestead; four daughters, Mrs. Sam McKinstry, Sr., Mrs. Rupert Mock and Mrs. Sadie Barwick, all of Pahokee, and Mrs. Donald Kepp of Canal Point; 20 grandchildren and 34 great-grandchildren.

A retired farmer, he made his home at 371 E. Main St. He came to Pahokee from Homestead in 1918 where he had been one of the pioneer councilmen. He served on the Pahokee City Council after moving there.

A Mason since 1904, he was a member of Everglades Lodge 211, F and A M. He also was a member of the Pahokee First Methodist Church.

Records in the office of the Grand Secretary of the Masonic Lodge show that Mr. Cochran became a member in Perry on April 28, 1904. He was a charter member of the Pahokee Masonic Lodge which was instituted in 1925.

Pallbearers were six grandsons: Sam McKinstry, Jr., W. E. McKinstry, Frank Cochran, John Cochran, Bill Cochran and Jasper Reed. Among those attending the funeral were Warren Cochran of Herscher, Ill.; Miss Jeanine Mock Gainesville; Johnny Cochran, Homestead; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Rogers and daughter, Laura June, South Bay; Mrs. Ruth Connell, Belle Glade; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crossman, Plantation; Mrs. C. T. Jackson, Eau Gallie; Mrs. Juanita Sullivan, Stuart; Mrs. Roscoe Williams, Homestead and Mrs. Lester Dier, West Palm Beach.

Mrs. Jernigan Named District WSCS Head

Mrs. W. P. Jernigan of Clewiston formerly of Canal Point, was elected president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, West Palm Beach district, and the meeting held Tuesday at Park Temple Methodist Church in Ft. Lauderdale. Those attending from this area were Mrs. Leonard Maxson, Mrs. Pope Sears and Mrs. Ida Blanchard of Canal Point, and Rev. and Mrs. T. C. O'Steen and Mrs. R. F. Hurt of Pahokee.

Or. E. C. Johnson To Be Rote President

When the first of July, 1962, rolls around, Dr. Ernest Cleveland Johnson, popular Pahokee physician, will become president of the Rote club, succeeding PHS Bandmaster Robert O. Lampi who has wielded the gavel as head of the club since July 1, 1961.

At the annual election held yesterday noon at the regular weekly meeting the nominating committee presented its slate of candidates for the various offices. President Lampi called for nominations from the floor according to Rote rules and by-laws. There being none a motion was unanimously passed electing the entire slate with Dr. Johnson as president.

Bill Plumer is the new vice-president and Joe Thompson is the new treasurer. Mike Sanders was elected as the new secretary.

Four directors were elected as follows: Luke Dufresne, Wiley Tillis, M. P. Holman and E. S. Parnell.

Pahokee Rote Club Hears Old Timer

Dr. E. W. Brandes, a former resident, was introduced as guest speaker at the Pahokee Rote luncheon, Thursday, by Bascom Belcher, program chairman. Dr. Brandes, an expert in sugar cane and banana breeding, came to this area first in 1919. He has traveled extensively and recently led a group of scientists on an expedition, sponsored by the United Fruit Company, to the Far East in search of wild banana plants. They collected 1,000 plants which are now under observation and experimentation at the Banana Gardens in Honduras. Dr. Brandes pointed out that unlike the cultivated varieties, wild bananas have hard, inedible seeds.

R. O. Lampi, president, presided over the business session. Guests were Sgt. James Chancey of the Florida Highway Patrol, Rev. Guthrie Colvard, and Dr. C. Wehlburg of Belle Glade. Miss Merita Bosteda was the guest of John Hundley, student member.

NORTHERN VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Anderson had as their house guests, this week their sisters Mrs. Lester Reynolds, Miami and Mrs. Walton Reynolds, Ridgefield, N. Y.; also Mrs. Lili Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. John Schult of Riviera Beach and Cleveland, Ohio.

Lytal And Sundy Have Opposition

As filing hour for county candidates rolled around at noon Tuesday of this week, County Commission Chairman Lake Lytal drew Democratic opponents in the upcoming primary elections but no Republican filed against him in the general election.

W. R. Copeland of Lake Clark Shores in West Palm Beach and A. F. Brockmiller of West Palm Beach are the two Democrats opposing Mr. Lytal in the primaries.

County Commissioner Ben Sundy in the southern end of the county drew two Democratic opponents and two Republicans will fight it out in the primary to see who opposes the Democrat in the general election in November. The opposing Democrats are: John Archie of Boynton Beach and Myron Rogers. The Republicans are Harold J. Dane and George Warren.

Other candidates who have filed are as follows:

School Board Group 1 — Louis Bills (D); Ronald L. Bohle (R).

School Board Group 3 — William M. Harvey (D); xHarold A. Turner (D); A. D. Thorpe (R).

Louis Bills Seeks Dist. 1 School Job

Louis Bills, Lake Park Realtor, this week qualified to become a candidate for the Palm Beach County School Board in District 1 which includes Pahokee, Canal Point, Jupiter and Lake Park. He qualified on the Democratic ticket and no other Democrat entered the race against him. He will have Republican opposition in the general election in November.

The District is now represented by Thurmond W. Knight, formerly of Pahokee, who now lives with his family in Lake Park. Mr. Knight, at the end of 1962 will have served two four-year terms on the board and has made an outstanding member. He has devoted a great deal of time to school problems and has been able to solve many of them successfully.

Mrs. Bob Meirs of Miami was the weekend guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Thomas, of Pahokee. Mr. Meirs joined his wife Sunday who had attended a fraternity meeting in Gainesville and returned to Miami with Mrs. Meirs.

Rogers Asks Funds To Study Cane Yield

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Congressman Paul G. Rogers has asked the House Agriculture Appropriations subcommittee to give full consideration to a request for funds to be used to determine factors affecting sugar cane plant yield decline.

Pointing out that each new variety of cane plant developed declines in yield within a few years, Congressman Rogers requested that assistance be given a program to find the causes, so that the high costs of developing new varieties every few years can be reduced.

The program Rogers supported would require the sugar industry to pay half the costs, with the Federal and State governments each paying one fourth.

Congress is being asked to appropriate $250,000 this year, of which $50,000 is to be used in Florida.

APPRECIATION
Sincere thanks to our many friends for your kindness to me during my illness. Your cards, flowers, visits and prayers will long be remembered.

Forest Products In State At 1/2 Billion

Forest products of Florida may soon reach $500,000,000 in value annually if present trends continue. This figure includes lumber from Florida sawmills, cellulose, naval stores, and other primary products.

A regional survey by the U. S. Forest Service and state forest services suggests that Florida and other southeastern states will, in time, become the main sources of the nation's total lumber supply with southern pine to rank as a major structural material.

Th half-billion dollar figure from Florida forests is the wholesale, manufactured value, and does not include an additional estimated $225,000,000 for remanufacture in pulp, paper, paper packaging, and other processes.

Though more than 60 per cent of the total land area of Florida is forest land, much of this area is badly understocked in trees, according to the latest timber survey. Forest Service officials say that this land could produce many more trees.

Florida farmers, landowners, and corporations planted 118,800,000 pine seedlings during the 1960-61 season.

Increasing demand for Florida saw timber is indicated. Though stocks of standing trees have increased in the last few years, much of the timber is in reserve or in scattered stands and not available for sawing into lumber.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of John Edward Cochran, Sr., wishes to thank their many friends for their cards, prayers, flowers and kind deeds during the illness and death of our loved one. We, also, wish to express our gratitude to the entire staff of the Everglades Memorial Hospital for their kindness, patience and understanding.

Local Researchers Test Cane Variety

Yield data from seven field experiments conducted at Okeelanta by B. A. Belcher and E. R. Rice show that C. P. 50-28 and C. P. 62-68 are adapted for planting in the much soils of that area. Mr. Rice and Mr. Belcher are research agronomists at the U. S. Sugar Cane Field Station in Canal Point.

In three plant cane and four stubble experiments, C. P. 50-28 produced an average of 9,684 pounds of sugar per acre from 47.54 tons of cane. Under comparable conditions C. P. 62-68 produced 8,654 pounds of sugar per acre from 44.31 tons of cane. The standard commercial variety, Cl. 41-223, produced 7,540 pounds of sugar per acre from 34.32 tons of cane in these experiments.

Both C. P. 50-28 and C. P. 62-68 were developed in the sugarcane breeding program at Canal Point, Florida. They were tested in field experiments at Okeelanta, cooperatively by personnel of the U. S. Sugarcane Field Station at Canal Point and the Okeelanta Sugar Refinery, Inc.

C. P. 50-28 was released in 1957 by USDA and the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station for planting in the muck and sandy-muck soils of the Fellsmere area in Florida. Subsequent tests indicated its adaptability to the Okeelanta area. Stalks of C. P. 50-28 grow erect under normal conditions, although they tend to lodge when growth is heavy. Early maturity and cold tolerance make C. P. 50-28 a valuable variety for early harvest and for harvest late in the season.

C. P. 52-28 was released in 1958 by USDA and the Louisiana Agricultural Experiment Station for planting in Louisiana. It is adapted to light and heavy soils in Louisiana and to muck soils in the Okeelanta area of Florida. Growth of C. P. 52-68 is vigorous and erect, however, the stalks tend to lodge.

when yields are heavy. Moderately spreading tops provide good row shading early in the season.

Both C. P. 50-28 and C. P. 52-68 are susceptible to the mosaic disease. The disease may not become a serious problem for several years if the grower starts with mosaic-free seedcane increase plots. Since both varieties are susceptible to the rat-tail stunting disease, the long-hot-water treatment should be used to maintain disease-free seedcane.

Workshop Is Held For Ag Workers

The Everglades USDA Club sponsored a Technical Writing Course March 12-16, 1962 which was held at Japison Hall in Belle Glade for Federal and State Agricultural Research Workers.

This Workshop was conducted by Ward W. Konkle, Publications Officer, and Donald V. Robertson, Writer, from the ARS Publications Section of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

The 18 hour refresher course was designed to improve methods of preparing technical and popular manuscripts for publication in USDA series, agency series, and outside.

Manuscript organization, writing the first draft, clarity in writing, how to prepare tables, writing summaries and abstracts, and good grammar principles—all were covered during the course.

Mr. Konkle, a farm-reared native of Pennsylvania, is a graduate of the University of Pittsburgh. In 1957 he joined ARS as a supervisory publications editor. Since 1958 he has been head of the Technical Publication Section; and, in addition, he is instructor and coordinator of the ARS training program in technical writing. Mr. Konkle has many years experience in teaching English, both expressed and written.

Wednesday, March 14, Mr. Konkle spoke at the USDA Club luncheon held at Ray's Smokehouse in South Bay. In his program, he presented an imaginary telephone conversation with a potential author. Mr. Konkle's droll sense of humor coupled with his mastery of the English language kept the group spellbound.

Mr. Robertson, born in the District of Columbia, is a graduate of the University of Maryland. He has been with ARS since 1958 as a writer in the popular publications section.

Certificates were awarded those who attended the five 3-hour courses and participated and completed the written homework assignments. Those attending were:

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Wilson attended the funeral of his uncle, A. C. Bush at Colquitt, Ga., Tuesday.

"Today we need a nation of Minute Men citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life"

—JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unremitting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."

BUY U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

For 20 years America's newspapers have published Savings Bonds ads for the Government. The Treasury Dept. is grateful to The Everglades News and this newspaper for their patriotic support.

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

The healing power of scientific prayer will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday. Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Matter" will include an account of the healing by Christ Jesus of the lunatic boy, together with his reply to the disciples who asked him why they could not heal him (Matthew 17): "And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, if ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove; and nothing shall be impossible unto you. Howbeit this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting."

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include (p. 1): "The prayer that reforms the sinner and heals the sick is an absolute faith that all things are possible to God, — a spiritual understanding of Him, an unselfish love."

Jo Ann McKinstry Has Birthday Party

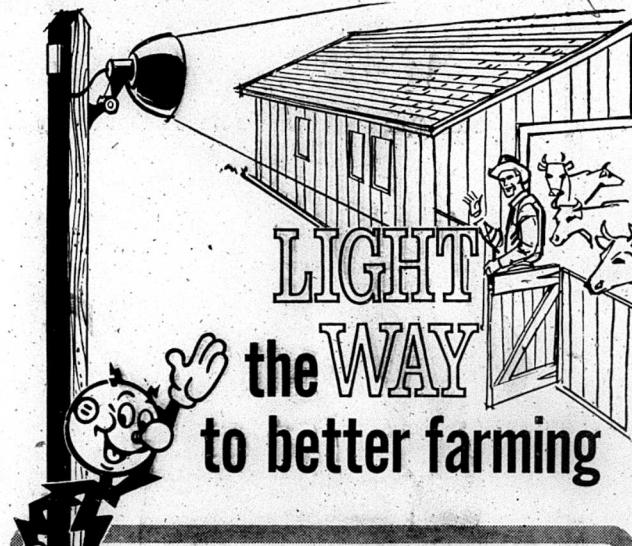

In honor of her 18th birthday, a party was given for Miss Jo Ann McKinstry, at the Pahokee Woman's Club, Friday evening, by her mother, Mrs. W. E. McKinstry. Her classmates, the Seniors of Pahokee High School, and other friends were invited guests. A color scheme of pink and white was used in the decorations and refreshments. Dancing and games were enjoyed by those attending. Mrs. Richard Tillis, aunt of the honoree, assisted the hostess.
